Willow Park (Parker County) — The city of Willow Park is in the process of securing a $14,130,000 loan from the Texas Water Development Board for the planning, design, land acquisition and construction of a new wastewater treatment plant, and associated piping for transmission and discharge lines.

The TWDB on April 22 approved a resolution that would provide the financing from the Clean Water State Revolving Fund. Willow Park's wastewater system services a population of 1,941 with 482 connections.

Willow Park has exceeded 80 percent of the city's wastewater treatment plant capacity. That threshold triggers a state requirement to initiate engineering and financial planning for expansion of the system. A second issue that must be addressed is the wastewater treatment plant's discharge into an impaired stream segment; this limits options for expansion of the existing facility.

The city is proposing to construct a new wastewater treatment plant. The project will include construction of a new 1 million-gallons per day facility on a 56-acre site. The scope of work includes installation of associated transmission and discharge lines.

Willow Park is scheduled to close on the loan by July 1. The engineering feasibility report is not expected to be finished until June 3, 2022, and the design phase is to be completed by Sept. 12, 2022, according to the project schedule.

Construction would begin by Jan. 12, 2023 and reach completion Jan. 12, 2024.

According to the budget summary, the estimated share of cost for construction is $10,280,000. The land acquisition is estimated at $1.4 million and the remainder of costs are attributed to engineering, special services, fiscal services and the contingency account.
